

CARDINAL CHIT-CHAT CORNER

Wow, we seem to have gotten more winter in February than we did in December! We sure need the moisture however it comes.

In case you ever wondered, according to statistics, Americans are eating an average of 250 eggs a year, of which just over 30% of them are in processed foods. That's a good way to make a hen feel wanted!

I heard a robin chirping the other day. A bit early, I'm afraid. Remember robins will eat sunflower hearts and peanut hearts, as well as fruit, either dried or fresh. Our Des Moines Audubon Brand CROPS is perfect for this. It needs to be on the ground, sidewalk, patio, or picnic table to attract them in.
